

Project | VR-Bank Ostalb eG, Aalen

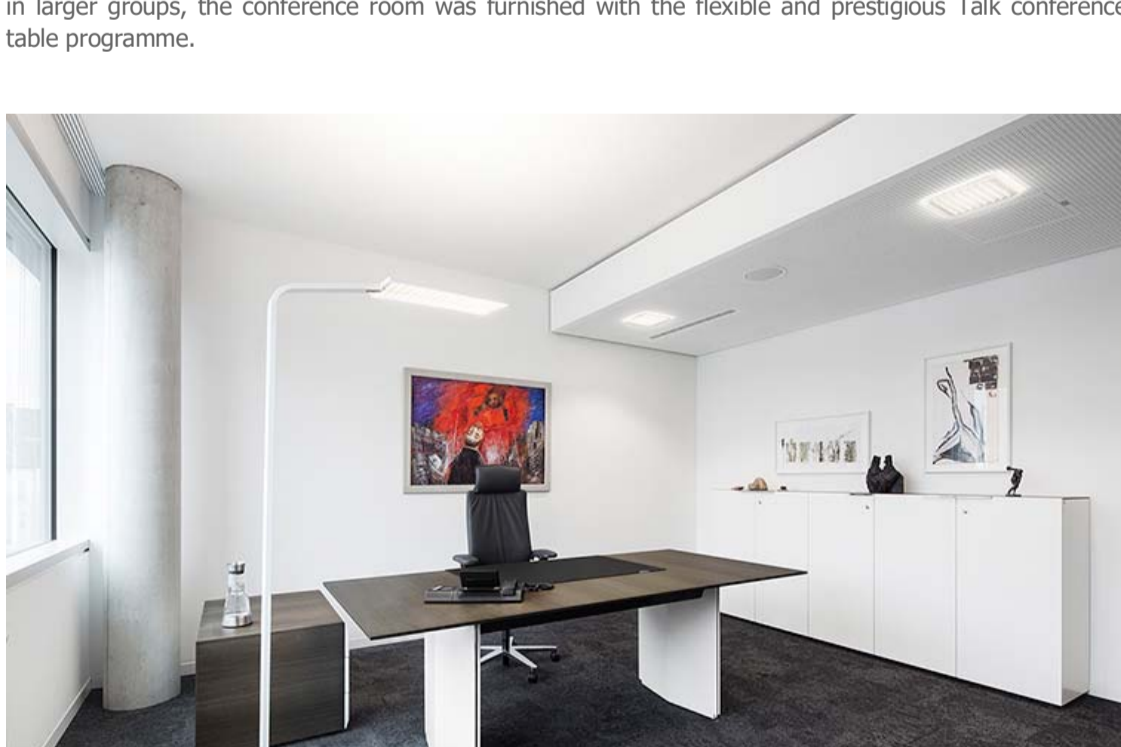

The new headquarters of the VR-Bank Ostalb eG is a functional and striking building with two compact structures which open up over four floors and offer many views.

The bank building, constructed by Stuttgart OHO-Architekten, fits concisely into its urban environment and reflects the VR-Bank's visible profile. Inside the building are inspiring rooms, characterized by the interplay of colours, shape, light, and selected materials.

Board member offices were furnished to individual requirements for functionality, and high quality with height-adjustable desks from the Pace programme, Site sideboards, and Sono meeting tables. For talks in larger groups, the conference room was furnished with the flexible and prestigious Talk conference table programme.
