RENZ

135 years RENZ | New brand brochure and more

Celebrating the 135th company anniversary of Wilhelm Renz GmbH + Co. KG, we present our new brand brochure „anchor points“ and an image film providing interesting insights into the company's production. The new brochure shows the current collection as well as various appealing references from the management and conference area.

On 92 pages, RENZ shows anchor points in a changing world – things, that remain: Personalized workplaces, intelligent executive furnishings and conference room solutions that facilitate work and foster well-being. The current programmes are presented with high-quality images in an impressive and modern way. Further, we present our newest program Paper that was successfully launched at the ORGATEC 2016. Paper combines purism and lightness and suits management as well as meeting and conference areas.

The current RENZ film shows what we stand for: good design, honest materials, craftsmanship and technical precision. Everything for individual and exceptional products.

In addition to the latest news about our company, you will also find information about our products and current references at www.renz.de.
